Enrique Ramirez

Catering to the needs of “over-stressed and under-pampered New Yorkers,” Face to Face NYC (started and owned by Enrique Ramirez) offers a wide range of services including but not limited to hair removal, massage and an assortment of age defying treatments. Earlier this month, I was fortunate enough to receive an hour-long deep tissue massage from Enrique himself. The procedure successfully eliminated all of my stubborn knots and was incredibly stress-relieving – I felt as if I was walking on a cloud for a full twenty four hours afterwards. Enrique was able to locate exactly where I needed attention (neck, lower back and feet) without so much as a suggestion from yours truly. With glowing reviews all over Yelp and a fiercely positive word of mouth, it’s no wonder that Enrique’s Chelsea based spa is one of the most respected in the city.
